FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Sales and Geographic Split

Total operating revenue ended at MNOK 6.4 (MNOK 7.1) for 1Q17.

Sales revenue in 1Q17 ended at MNOK 4.8 (MNOK 5.9). The decline is due to the loss of the Chinese customer as announced on March 22nd, 2017.

Geographic split:

MNOK	1Q17	1Q16
US	0,3	0,2
Europe	3,5	2,0
Asia	1,0	3,4
Total	4,8	5,6

Other operating revenue ended at MNOK 0.7 (MNOK 0.6) for 1Q17. SkatteFUNN funding ended at MNOK 0.9 (MNOK 0.6) for 1Q17.

Cost of Goods Sold

COGS were MNOK 1.1 for 1Q17 (MNOK 1.3), which represents 24 % (22 %) of sales revenue.

The increase in gross margin from 4Q16 to 1Q17 indicates that the move to in-house production of raw materials is starting to give results.

Total operating expenses

Total operating expenses before capitalization of R&D expenses ended at MNOK 12.2 (MNOK 7.0) in 1Q17.

Operating costs include total salary and social expenses of MNOK 7.2 (MNOK 4.2) and other expenses of MNOK 5.0 (MNOK 2.7) for 1Q17. The increase in costs is according to plan, as the company is accelerating its R&D- and marketing activities. The increase is also partly due to inclusion of the new subsidiary, PreTect AS.

Total operating expenses after capitalization of R&D expenses ended at MNOK 10.0 (MNOK 6.4) for 1Q17.

R&D Expenses

R&D expenses amounted to 34 % (33 %) of total operating expenses before capitalization for 1Q17.

share issue approved by the General Meeting on the 30th of January 2017.

OPERATIONAL STATUS

Gentian Diagnostics experiences significant variations in quarterly revenues due to customers' ordering patterns. 1Q17 revenues were lower than in 1Q16 due to the situation in China described in a stock exchange announcement on March 22nd 2017, and because an order to South-Korea will occur in May instead of March.

On the research and development side, we successfully passed the verification phase of serum/plasma calprotectin in March. This product has now moved into the validation phase, which is the last step before CE marking and commercial launch, expected in 2H17.

In March 2017, Gentian announced that it had achieved proof-of-concept for the ultra-sensitive technology, named Nanosense II. Development of several new tests are expected to start based on this technology platform. Lastly, Gentian had good progress on two additional pipeline projects that are currently in the proof-of-concept phase.

SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF MNOK 100 SHARE ISSUE

During Q1 Gentian successfully raised gross proceeds of MNOK 100 in an equity raise. This will be used to further develop the Company's distribution platform, pursue M&A opportunities as well as for general corporate purposes. The placement was oversubscribed and approved by the General Meeting on the 30th of January 2017.

ESTABLISHMENT OF DIRECT DISTRIBUTION IN THE NORDIC REGION

Operations of the Swedish subsidiary, Gentian Diagnostics AB, commenced in March. This unit will be responsible for distribution activities for both Gentian products and third party products in the Nordic region. The company will also conduct clinical studies to support our marketing activities.

OUTLOOK 2017

The launch of the gCAL (Serum/plasma Calprotectin) in 2H17 is on track. Results from ongoing and new clinical studies will be published, and the first marketing initiatives will be initiated during 2017. The results from these activities will be important for the acceptance and sales revenues in 2018.

Furthermore, we expect that Gentian's R&D department will start the product development for the first test based on the ultra-sensitive technology and deliver at least one additional proof-of-concept in 2017. The company will also initiate proof-of-concept work on a new test.

In March, we announced the stop of deliveries to our, until now, biggest Chinese distributor. As a result, sales in Asia are expected to decline in 2017. We do, however, expect this to be compensated by growth in orders from other distributors and for other products. Hence, Gentian expect sales for 2017 to be on par with the 2016 level despite loss of the Chinese distributor.
